WAP PAW

J. Maloney

WAPPAW

Here it is--your 1949 Wappaw--a ready reference to all the activities of Paw Paw High School. It is the purpose of the Forty-niners to present to you a record which will recall many happy memories, not just today, but in future years.

Standing: M. Masten, Art; N. Lallinger, Features; J. McDaniel, Photography; R. Ewing, Sports; L. Krueger, Activities; N. Murch, Business. Seated: M. Spies, Typing; Miss Hazzard, Advisor; A. Soule, Editor; S. Adamson, Assistant Editor; M. Merrill, Typing.

DEDICATION

To our parents, in honor, respect, and affection, we, the Senior Class of 1949, wish to dedicate this volume of the Wappaw.

FEATURES

CLASS WILL

We the forty-niners, being of improved (?) and weary mind, as a result of four years of arduous search for the golden nuggets of wisdom, now in a spirit of magnanimity do hereby bestow upon those who are left to mourn our loss, the following bequests:

I, Shirley Adamson, bequeath my pleasing personality to Carla Drije.

I, Kay Allen, bestow my title Blondie upon Ethel Whittington who can protect it better than I.

I, Edward Boothby, will my love of concocting explosives to Bill Carrington.

I, Jack Brady, leave my sudden decisions to go swimming to the next person who misses the steps.

I, Ray Brookman, bequeath my quiet ways to Charles Brill.

I, Stanley Brookman, leave my beat-up trombone to Amy Elliot.

I, Martin Burke, leave my brilliant quips in typing to Bill Drenkhahn.

I, Philip Coulson, bequeath my talkative nature to Gordon Connolly.

I, Tom Czuhajewski, leave my shy, bashful manners to Charles Smith.

I, Marilyn Davis, will my love of horses to Pat Lee.

I, Jordan Doty, leave my brute strength to Roy (Ginny) Sines.

I, Harold Drake, leave, still undivided ?????

I, Bob Ewing, will my athletic abilities to Bud Breed.

I, Marian Flynn, leave my baton and whistle to Judy Murch.

I, John Gault, leave my worn baseball glove to Dwight Ketchum.

I, Gerald Gladysz, leave my solid build to Donald Drake.

I, Betty Grehl, leave my air of sophistication to Beatrice Englesby.

I, Jo Ann Hall, leave Government classes (especially the Senior Scholastic) and gladly, too!

I, Allan Horn, leave my ability to play Tarzan to Pat Evans.

I, Elizabeth Johnson, leave my Spaniard to Jackie Gustaff.

I, Norma Lallinger, bequeath my quiet laughter to Gloria Bradley.

I, Betty Marcelletti, leave the name of my favorite beauty parlor to anyone who desires hair like mine.

I, Betty Staggs, leave my plentiful wardrobe to Joan Kobe.

I, Mary Griesmaier, bequeath my soft voice to Mary Lashbrook.

I, Patsy Zuris, will my love of the under class men to Faith Boyne.

I, Helem Betty Wright, will my seat at the tardy meetings to Paul Price.

I, Donna Whisler, leave my artistic talent to Melvin Norman.

I, Victor Vukorpa, bequeath my good sportsmanship to Ed Bylina.

I, John Thomas, leave my hunting trips to Ralph Burns.

I, Catherine Swartout, leave my acting ability to Corrine Stearns.

I, Jim Stull, leave my loping gait to Allen Abrams.

I, Marjorie Spies, will my ability to make money to Bill Johnson.

I, Arthur Soule, leave my job as Wappaw Editor, headaches included, to anyone who can take it.

I, Irene Sitar, leave my cheerleading job to Avis Whisler.

I, Florence Sitar, leave the broken strings from my French horn to Mr. Collins.

I, Joan Kaiser, leave my map of the roads to Crystal to Marilyn Ewing.

I, Mary Margaret Kalanj, leave my nickname- "Dink" - to Firebug.

I, John Karony, leave my ability to attain a rapid sunburn (the face and ears) to Gene Miller.

I, Lois Krueger, bequeath my high scholastic standards to Carole Hinckley.

I, Shirley Larson, will the P.M. attendance route to some ambitious and brave-hearted Junior.

I, Clyde Lounsberry, leave my stutter to John Murch.

I, Audrey Love, leave my trips to and from Gobles to my sister.

I, John Maloney, will my curly hair to Clair Jacobs.

I, Carroll Mannon, leave the tutoring of the chemistry classes to Bob Copping.

I, Floris Masten, leave my friendly smile to Julie Klimkowsky.

I, Jim Mc Daniel, leave my Democratic sympathies and ability to debate over them to Nancy Hindenach.

I, Margie Merrill, bequeath my good nature to Shirley Hoger.

I, Gene Mitchell, leave my ability to make music to Ed Doty.

I, Nancy Murch, bequeath my former seat at the grand piano in the music room to Marilyn Grabbe.

I, Donald Pelt, leave my ability to manage a car to Dick Hesler, along with prayers and a map of Van Buren County.

I, Marian Pursley, leave my golden locks to Virginia Abrams.

I, Joe Quigno, leave my wolfing abilities to Art Danger.

I, Evelyn Randall, bequeath my ability to write poetry to Barbara Copen.

I, David Richardson, leave my battered trumpet to Charles Cusamano.

I, Frances Ritsema, leave my athletic ability to Harriet Masten.

I, Milon Root, leave my willingness to run errands to Chester Haluch.

I, Jean Sackett, will my voice and my place in Choir to Beverly Evans.

I, Evelyn Schallhorn, leave my happy nature to Sidney McDaniel.

I, Louis Pachner, leave my gigantic size to Sam Spayde. He needs it!

We of the Senior Class bequeath three of our girls--Norma Lallinger, Shirley Adamson, and Betty Staggs--to Decatur. They go willingly!

To Mr. Archer, we leave the husky voices that led him on in his cheers.

To Mr. Schenk, we leave the backs of the pink excuses we reserved in the hope of a future shortage of pink paper.

To our advisors, Miss Werner and Mr. Vaughn, we leave fond memories of those events that gave them nightmares when we were with them.

To Miss Hazzard, we leave the Wappaw worries for some other Senior Class.

To Mr. Linderman, we leave the memories of many thrilling rides in the Drivers' Training Course.

To Miss Toms, we leave the Home Ec. furniture for future party uses.

To Miss Spaulding, we leave the tangled volleyball nets. Hope she can untangle them!

To Mr. Falan, we leave the track to raise the standards of our boys.

To Mr. Michmerhuizen, we will all our Government exam papers, knowing that he will profit from the knowledge of the ages contained therein.

To Miss Kirby, we leave the Romans and Spaniards. We don't want them, you can have them, they're too much for us!

To Miss Freer, we leave our good beginning, and hope that she can forget the ending.

To Mrs. Beals, we leave the memory of her babies in Pinafore! It was fun!

To Mr. Oas we leave the memories of that last Junior High picnic. It was swell!

To Miss Smutz, we leave any brown paper and poster paint she may have hidden.

To Miss Gudde, we leave the Junior girls to replace the Senior office girls who helped her.

To Mr. Collins, we leave the use of the auditorium, now that the plays and pictures are over.

To Mrs. Nestor, we leave the pleasure of giving out tardy slips to next year's Seniors.

To Miss Killefer, we leave the paper cutter and stencil machine. Thanks millions!

To the Juniors, we bequeath fifty sets of practically unused senior textbooks. They may be found by looking in the waste baskets after the last day of school.

To the Sophomores, we leave this bit of advice, "You can fool some of the teachers all of the time, and all of the teachers some of the time, but you can't fool all of the teachers all of the time," You had better take our advice, We learned it the hard way!

To the faculty, we return all sound minds, which have been either lost, strayed, or stolen in the four years we have inhabited Paw Paw High School.

In Witness Whereof, we have hereunto set out hand and seal this fifteenth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-nine.

Signed, sealed, published, and declared as and for their last will and testament by the Class of 1949, the above named teatators, in the presence of us who, at their request and in the presence of them and of each other, have subscribed our names hereto as witnesses on the day and year last aforesaid.

Mr. Wilburcesco Schenkskinsky
1949 West Gold Rush Avenue
Redskinscalp, Pawshigan

Dear Sir:

I have just received from that great class of '49 a wagonload of gold, pulled by Jean Sackett and her trusty horse. Her husband, John Gault, a former member of the class, accompanied her. My office boy, Louis Pachner, was thrilled to see them, and immediately began asking questions about the old mining town. They responded by telling us that Gerald Gladysz, as mayor, is still leading the '49' ers on. On his staff are Catherine Swartout, Jim Stull, and Victor Vukorpa.

Next to the mayor's office is the office of the lady sheriff, Nancy Murch, who was recently defeated by her Democratic opponent, Jim McDaniel.

Directly across from the Sheriff's Office is the Z and W Hotel operated by Patsy Zuris and Helen Betty Wright. Among their recent visitors was that great Vaudeville dancing team, Betty Grehl and Gene Mitchell, and their manager, Jordon Doty. You remember good ole Dote!

Next to the hotel is the Nickelodeon, run by Shirley Adamson. Here are featured such famous artists as Allan Horn, the comedian, Miss Norma Lallinger, the Belle of the Redskins of '49' and those famous juggling boys, Bob Ewing and Harold Drake.

Down the line is the Haberdashery run by Burke and Richardson. The boys, who specialize in fashions for miners and muleskinners, seem to be doing fine.

On the same side of the street is the newly--opened barbershop owned by Karony and Maloney. They are introducing the new Toni Twin Permanent. As they use them themselves, they are trying to decide which twin has the Toni.

Elizabeth Johnson and her beloved friend, Mary Griesmaier, recently paid a visit to Miss Jo Ann Hall who has the sweetest little candy shop around these parts. The girls spent many happy hours talking over good 'ole' days when they were in their prime.

Doctor Stanley Brookman has just returned from Timbuctoo with a new assistant, Lois Krueger. They are both getting along well and are very happy together.

Of course some of our boys have been outstanding miners. They've been working hard lately, trying to find new deposits of gold. Maybe they will have success

yet. Some that you will remember are Phil Coulson, who is still interested in chemistry, and our old bashful boy, Tom Czuhajewski. Clyde Lounsberry now owns one of the largest mines, and I heard recently that Carroll Mannon is going intb partnership with him.

Flash!! We just got notice that Pursley is still chasing Pelt! May the best one win.

Remember those two energetic babes, Larson and Maston? Well, they're still running the corner drugstore. They're reall y great at slinging those malted milks and sundaes. The last I heard, they were talking of going into business together.

Milon Root, Audrey Love, and Margie Merrill are still traveling old M 40 to get out to the Old West. They do a lot of dashing back and forth.

The Lonely Hearts Club, run by Sitar and Sitar, is still on the beam. The girls' latest puzzlement was finding dates for Betty Marcelletti and Mary Kalanj. The last I heard they were doing pretty well, as they always did.

Two weddings took place just recently. Marilyn Davis and Marian Flynn were both married by the Reverend Jack Brady. He and his assistants, Joe Quigne and John Thomas, are trying to collect enough to build a new parsonage for the Reverend to live in. Marjorie Spies and Evelyn Schallhorn have been out trotting around, trying desperately to collect money for this cause.

I've noticed lately that the '49'er Inn has been doing a wonderful business. Joan Kaiser and Kay Allen own the inn, and both seem to know the business pretty well. They specialize in hot dogs and root beer. Three of the waitresses are really on the beam when it comes to pleasing the public. They are none other than Evelyn Randall, Franees Ritsema, and Donna Whisler.

Arthur Soule is doing quite well for himself. He has a hardware store, and is doing a booming business.

I must close now as another shipment of gold has just arrived, and I must get to work. I hope to hear from you soon about the oncoming class of '50!.

Sincerely,

Huggus
Mr. Huggus Archeouska

CLASS HISTORY

One bright morning in September, 1936, Mrs. DeHaan awakened with a headache. It was that unforgettable day that thirty-one shining-eyed little children, the Seniors-to-be of 1949, combed and brushed to a high degree, entered the Paw Paw Kindergarten. Our first task, and only one that year, was learning to play Farmer in the Dell.

Our biggest thrill in first grade came when we were in the play, Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs. By this time most of us had learned to write our names, at least.

Second grade was uneventful except that we collected Nancy Murch, and voted Miss McQuigg our favorite teacher.

Our third grade was honored by having three of our girls, Kay Allen, Nancy Murch, and Shirley Adamson, appear in the operetta, The Gypsy Rover, which was presented by the High School. That year we also introduced our artistic talents to the world by painting a mural, The Pied Piper of Hamlin, which we left for future generations. Believe it or not, they still have it!

In fourth grade, several of our angels turned out to be not so angelic. The outcome of a hot ruler fight was that their names appeared on the board, and they lost rulers for a week.

The most important thing that happened in fifth grade was our attendance at the May Festival in Kalamazoo with the older students. We were very proud! That year we began our first real study of American history. (Helen Betty and John Karony remember April showers, and Kay loves to think about the bookcase.)

Unhappily we entered sixth grade. We were almost through with grammar school-at least the downstairs part of it. This was the beginning of our night life and Miss Stufft's struggles. (By the way, do you know what happened to Orion?) Our literary ability showed itself that year when we wrote and produced a play on the history of leather, and also presented Robin Hood. And just in passing who gave the piano its weekly cleaning? Our annual picnic and baseball game ended elementary school.

With knocking knees and many qualms, we climbed the stairs to Junior High. We soon discovered that every class has a president and other officers elected annually in a big campaign flurry, with speeches and a good deal of mud-slinging. Miss Spaulding made a valiant effort to teach us to dance, and at the end of a series of nerve-racking sessions, we had a class party which was a mild success.

In eighth grade we began to be somebody, with Mrs. Baker as our advisor. Energetically we sold war bonds and stamps, made slippers and afghans, and in general, helped the war effort. This year, for the first time, we began to plan our careers.

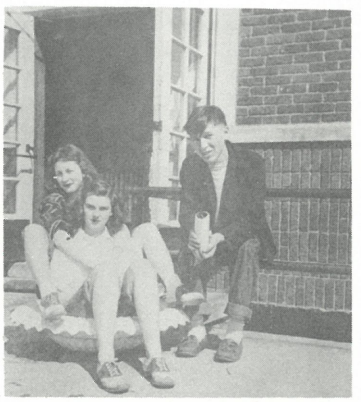
Entering ninth grade we felt like the top (of Junior High, that is). We had a choice of subjects, we began to collect credits, and we started making money (class dues). Anxiously we awaited the Senior High parties, and were rightfully disappointed when we were informed when we couldn't go. Thanks to Mr. Oas for the knowledge of bugs and calories gained that year.

Our high school days really began in our Sophomore year when we were officially allowed to come to the parties, and even sponsored one ourselves. The Mexican Fiesta turned out to be a roaring success. We were well launched on our money-making career. Our motto became Money! Money! Money! Our officers were Joe Quigno, president; Don Keune, vice-president; Irene Sitar, secretary; and Vic Vukorpa, treasurer.



Our one thought during our Junior year was to put on the best J-Hop that Paw Paw High School had ever seen. We were determined not to have the traditional southern garden-and we didn't! We sold candy at the games, and sponsored innumerable dances, including a couple of square dances. We also gave a play called Quiet Summer, a comedy in three acts. June, the fifth, was our big night. Our prom was called Fairyland Fantasy. It took an enormous amount of work, but it was well worth it. We owe a great deal of our success to Mrs. Nestor and Mr. Vaughn, and the class officers-Al Horn, president; Betty Marcelletti, vice-president; Betty Grehl, secretary; and Harold Drake, treasurer.

This year with Gerry Gladysz, president; Jim Stull, vice-president; Cathy Swartout, secretary; and Vic Vukorpa, treasurer, we are Seniors at last. We gave over the dances and our candy-selling privileges to the Juniors. On January 22, 1949, we gave our Senior play, Stage Door, and in the spring we took off for a few days' rest. There are four of the original thirty-one of us--Shirley Adamson, Kay Allen, Joe Quigno, and Donna Whisler-still going strong. Now with mixed feelings of regret and anticipation, we are about ready to leave old Paw Paw High. The underclassmen must carry on!

CLASS PROPHECY

Wal, you see, it's a queer story, our future. As the years rolled by, many changes took place around these here parts. Our lives soon became interesting and our careers began to be pretty big. Our littlest gal, Helen Betty Wright, sailed to Paris to larn how to make purty dresses, and the last news from her, why she were comin' to Noo Yawk to work for the great French designer, Pierre Victoria Vukorpa. Speakin' of Pierre, another of our favorites is brung to mind, that colossal model, Betty Marcelletti. She's really hunkie-dory, so we hear from that thar noisy news reporter, Marian Pursley. The Fifth Avenue Daily wouldn't know wat to do without her and that thar wise investigatin' reporter, Pelt (Donald). His latest scoop was capturin' the news on speed demon Truck Doty, who recently broke the Indianapolis Speedway record, sailin' down yonder on Broadway. Wal, so much fer the East.

As the years traveled on, that there boy Jim McDaniel, who was thought most likely to succeed, ended up bein' a debater in the House of Representatives. His latest argument was fer to drop the Republican Party, and jest have the Democrats. His opponent was none other than Martin Burke, the renowned debater of the country. The debate was really hot, and Mac finally decided to drop the issue until his key investigator, Mr. Carroll Mannon, returned from an important trip, and see what he thought would be the best solution. Speakin' of the capital city, we saw a pitcher in Life last week of the typical career gal, and it was none other than that efficient secretary, Marjorie Spies, who's workin' for some big government man. Margie always was a typin' whiz. She became one when she was typin' for the Wappaw when we was Seniors.

We always was told that thar was gold in them thar hills, and we should find it. Wal, some of us took it to heart. One of our boys, Al Horn, went to find that thar gold, but he went to the wrong hills, Al, them hills is out west, not in Fort Wayne.

Do you all remember that great sensation, Dick Cantino and his accordian back in '49? Wal, he's been topped by that rovin', cavalier Eugene Mitchell and his squeeze box. Eugh' has made a big hit with society, and he's playin' nightly at Club 49 in Honolulu. Mitch hasn't forgot his old dancin' technique neither. One of the spotlight attractions on his show is his society dancin' gal, Bet Grehl. Betty has really made a career for herself. She was very well-liked and famous in the States, as well as bein' loved by all Hawaiians.

One of our little boys, Jackson Brady, is still livin' in the big metropolis of Almeny. He has become a big business man and educator, specializin' in government trainin'. His most important undertakin' was the remodelin' of Almeny Tech, that great inspirin' school. His helper, Joe Ann Hall, is busy tryin' to git new students to come thar for advanced larnin'. Don't worry, Joe, five is good fer a start. Maybe ten will come next year. Speakin' of Almeny, that bringsanother mate to mind. Remember Floris Masten? Wal, she's got herself a big drugstore up in Canada. She's tryin' to teach the Canadians about the old Dillon methods. That thar mate of hers, Shirley Larson, was with her for a while, but a lumberjack from the north woods soon took up her time.

One of our boys, David Richardson, traveled to Argentina to see how the wallpaper business is down thar. Findin' that thar business profitable, he persuaded his farmer friend Jim Stull to leave the farm and join him at once.Jim eagerly seized the opportunity. Sailin' south on that big steamer the P.P. 49, Mr. Stull were taken bysurprise when he saw that the great actress,Catherine Swartout, were aboard. Eager to see her and talk about old times, he went to call. Her agent, John Karony, and her companion, Frances Ritsema, were overcome with joy at seein' him once more. It's been a long time since they was together. When he told them whar he was going Miss Swartout told him to be sure and look up the bullfighter, Milon Root.

Miss Shirley Adamson, our gal with the purty eyes, is livin in a big mansion with her husband, the governor of that thar forty-ninth state, Her devoted friend, Miss Norma Lallinger, and her husband are visitin' them at present. Norma has become a famous writer and critic. They recently attended a convention and banquet where, much to their surprise, the Master of Ceremonies, Harold Drake, introduced the speaker, Mr. Robert Ewing, who spoke on the subject Boat and Land Trips. It were a very inspirin' speech, and then to their great surprise, Miss Nancy Olga Murch, the great concert pianist of stage and radio, entertained, and her part of the program was enjoyed by all. They asked her about some of the old gang, and she said that Kay Allen was now a professor at that thar School of Physics,and she and that thar eager womanlawyer, Miss Pat Zuris, lived together.

Miss Marilyn Davis and Miss Jean Sackett are runnin'a race track down yonder in Kaintucky. Their hosses has been runnin' well this year, and they credit the ability to that limber, curley-headed jockey, Johnny Maloney, and that other one, Louis Pachner, famous for his ability to sleep in the saddle. Two of their most popular contributors are John Gault and Gerry Gladysz who are takin'the racin'field seriously now.

One of our ambitious gals, Audrey Love,is now a missionary over in China, so we hear from Miss Lois Krueger, that thar inspirin' social worker of the West.

Miss Donna Whisler, who followed in her father's footsteps,with the assistance of Miss Evelyn Randall, has a weekly paper of advertisements. Some of her favorite advertisements are them of that thar great corner grocery store run by Art Soule and Joe Quigno. Another is the town dry cleaners,Mary Griesmaeir and Elizabeth Johnson, who specialize in "Keeping the Spots."

Some of our boys remained back on the home front. Of these, there's John Thomas, who runs a small hardware store, Clyde Lounsberry, who has become a very successful dairy farmer, and Philip Colson, who's runnin' a repair shop. Margie Merrill became a teacher of athletics at the old home town school, and all her teams has been takin' first place ever since she's been thar. Speakin' of teachers, Evelyn Schallhorn is teachin' refresher courses in studies at a small school in Nebraska.

Marian Flynn became a world-famous baton twirler, and she's now tourin' Europe. Her agents, Stanley Brookman and Tom Czuhajewski, have been bookin' her in all the prominent cities, and she's waitin' for a reply from the king of Egypt, where she'll go next and perform. After one of her recent shows, who should come backstage and see her but that thar famous traveler of miles, Edward Boothby.

Mary Margaret Kalanj is just back from Canyon Creek, where she spent a day attendin' the annual Circus of the West. Much to her amazement she saw them two famous Sitars (Irene and Florence) perform on the trapeze.They're really tops in their profession, and very thrillin' to see as they fly through the air. Another of the attractions was the snake charmer, Joan Kaiser, and her companion. Betty Staggs, the celery growin' lady. After the show, Mary looked the gals up, and they spent several happy hours together.

Wal, now you know the queer story of our future. It's been a grand forty-nine year,and when we all join up at the Old Red Brick at our reunion time, we're sure to have a lot of tall tales to tell.

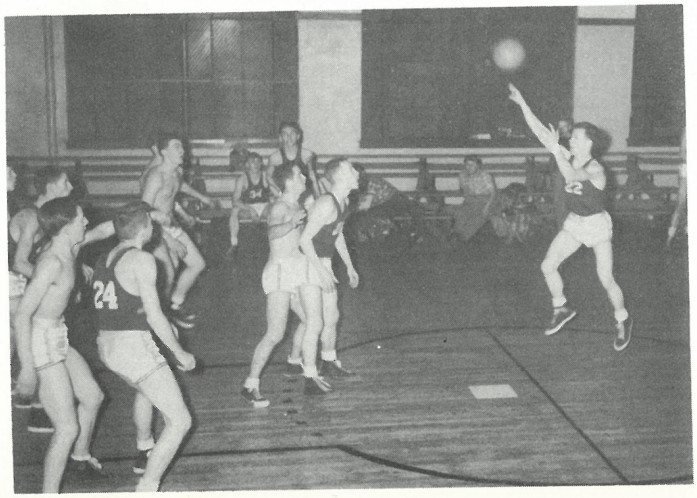
With seven letter winners back from last year's Tri-County championship team, 1948-49 was a good season for the Redskins. Having a full schedule, and playing a high grade of competition, the Redskins really had their hands full.

In one of last year's outstanding games, the Redskins downed St. Augustine in a hard fought battle before a record crowd at Kalamazoo College gym. This year's squad had the task of changing their offense, but under the able direction of Coach Wayne Falan, they have gained an enviable record.

These men will be lost through graduation in June: Ewing, Drake, Gladysz, Stull, Lounsberry, Quigno, and Horn, along with scorekeeper Honest John Gault.



FOOTBALL

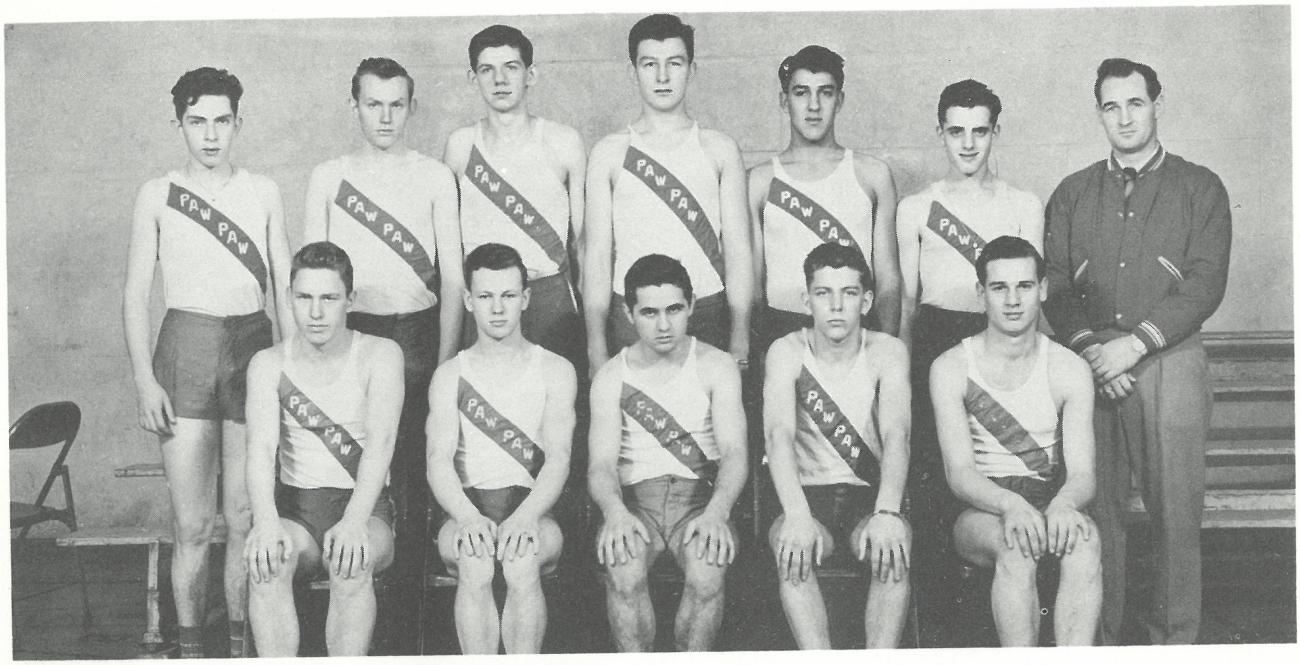
The 1948 football season opened with eight letter men back on the squad. Two of these, Vic Vukorpa and Gene Mitchell, missed practically the entire season because of injuries.

Notwithstanding a poor lost and won record, the team never failed to give the opponent a tough battle. The starting line up for most of the games was; Quigno and Horn, ends; Gladysz and Ketchum, tackles; Danger and Doty, guards; Spayde, center; and Brady, Ewing, Bylina, and Drake, backfield.

Bob Ewing was elected honorary captain at the close of the season.

The team will lose the following men through graduation: Jack Brady, Jordan Doty, Harold Drake, Bob Ewing, John Gault, Gerald Gladysz, Al Horn, Gene Mitchell, Joe Quigno, and Vic Vukorpa. Eleven returning letter men plus members of a strong reserve team should give Paw Paw High a very successful season next year, however.

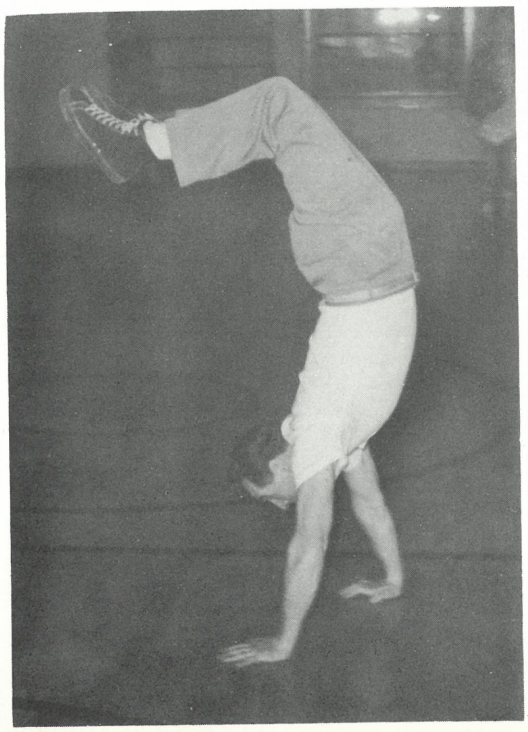
TRACK



2nd. Row: M. Burke, D. Jennings, W. Carrington, E. Mitchell, V. Vukorpa, J. Maloney, Coach Falan. 1st. Row: A. Danger, R. Ewing, E. Bylina, E. White, C. Jacobs.

Because of the loss of nine men from last year's squad, this year's team will be considerably weakened in places. However, the underclassmen who are coming up show great promise, and the outlook for this season is good.

The loss of Carl Carrington, Dick Donovan, and Wayne McCarty, all of whom placed in the state track meet at Lansing last spring, will be very noticeable.



BASEBALL

2nd. Row: Coach Falan, D. Spayde, E. Bylina, E. Mitchell, D. Hesler, D. Kruse.
1st. Row: V. Vukorpa, R. Ewing, H. Price, A. Horn, J. Gault, H. Drake.

The baseball squad of 1949 looks strong, having lost only three players by graduation. There are eight lettermen back, and some promising prospects coming up. Paw Paw will be playing in Tri-County and Van Buren County Leagues. There is a fourteen game schedule, and with Coach Falan back of them, the Redskin nine should have a very successful season.

Horn, J. Gault, B. Carrington, Coach Falan. 1st Row: H. Price, H. Drake, B. Ewing, V. Vukorpa, J. Maloney, G. Mitchell.

The Varsity Club, which was formerly known as the Letter Club, was very active this year. One of the big projects was the purchasing of the new electric scoreboard. Schedule pencils were sold to help with this fund. The Varsity Club paid half the fee.

Membership in the club is open to all men in the school who have varsity letters.

CHEERLEADERS

Standing: M. Ewing, N. Hindenach. Kneeling: A. Whisler, D. Arnold, I. Sitar.

Just as morale plays an important part in the victories of armies, so does it play an important part with athletic teams. In the past year the school spirit of the student body has been excellent, due largely to the efforts of our enthusiastic cheerleaders.

Two cheerleaders have been added to the squad this year. Avis Whisler, a Sophomore, was elected from a group of twelve girls trying out, and Delevan Arnold also joined the group.

The troupe has been very faithful in attending both home and out-of-town games, and in conducting pep rallies for the student body. The leaders are known for their neatness in appearance, enthusiasm, pep, and vigor. Their manner of cheering has inspired many to support the Redskins.

The National Thespian Dramatic Honor Society for high schools is a national organization with over nine hundred chapters in the United States. Its purpose is to create a more active and intelligent interest in high school dramatics. A point system is used by which a student may earn points toward membership by participating in any phase of dramatic activity from building a stage or gathering properties to being a member of the cast. Ten points earned will qualify a student for membership. Points earned by members in addition to their first ten give them additional recognition within the society as they may progress to Star Thespians. A student with an unusually high record of work done may be elected as Best Thespian by the Troupe. This year the local Troupe - No. 447-celebrated National Drama Week - February - 7 - 12 by holding a Quiz program in assembly, by a formal initiation for new members in the auditorium before the student body, and by an Alumni Banquet, which was attended by a number of graduates of the high school who are members of National Thespians. Several theatre parties to see the Kalamazoo Civic Theatre productions have been enjoyed, and the group also attended the Margaret Webster production of "Hamlet".

SENIOR PLAY

Cast of STAGE DOOR: D. Richardson, I. Sitar, M. Kalanj, H. Drake, J. Stull, S. Adamson, B. Marcelletti, N. Murch, E. Schallhorn, F. Ritsema, L. Krueger, F. Masten, H. Wright, A. Horn, J. McDaniel, M. On January 22, 1949, the Senior Class gave Stage Door, a well-known play about the theater written by Edna Ferber and George S. Kaufman. With a large cast of thirty, almost all the Seniors who wanted to try their hands at acting, had a grand opportunity to display their talents. Under the able direction of Miss Freer, the play was successfully presented to an enthusiastic audience.

JUNIOR PLAY

Cast of QUIET SUMMER: A. Soules, N. Murch, L. Krueger, V. Vukorpa, B. Grehl, E. Schallhorn, J. Maloney, J. Karony, I. Sitar, J. McDaniel, S. Adamson, M. Burke, M. Kalanj, J. Doty, F. Sitar, V. Tyler, C. Swartout, S. Brookman.

"Just think - two nights." That's what everyone was saying last year because we gave our Junior play twice. Quiet Summer concerns a stuffed shirt uncle who loves his secretary, but does nothing about it - that is, until his niece and nephew unexpectedly drop in on him for the summer. Then things begin to happen. After nearly making Unc lose his chance to win an election, the kids finally straighten things out, and everyone is happy.

The class owes Miss Freer a vote of thanks for her able directing, and thanks also go to the student directors, Evelyn Randall and Kay Allen.

F.H.A.

The F. H. A. (Future Homemakers of America) met regularly the first Tuesday of every month during the school year. These evening meetings were for any girl who was interested in home making. The only qualification for membership was that she must have taken at least one year of Home Economics in high school. Home demonstrations and entertainment were enjoyed at every meeting. The theme of this newly organized club was: "Building today for tomorrow."

The F. F. A. group holds two meetings each month--one formal day meeting and one informal night meeting. Speakers have been brought in this year to discuss such topics as Soil Conservation, Soil Fertility, Potato Production, etc. During the year the boys have planted ten thousand pine trees for the Soil Conservation District. The group has taken numerous trips--two to Michigan State College to visit the campus and to attend football games, and several field trips to study crop production.

The membership this year consists of twenty-three members and ten initiate members.

The Treble Singers had a fine membership this year, and were off to a good start with an excellent assembly program during the seventh week of school. They were assisted by Doris Jean Martin, pianist, and Miss Marjorie Miller, student teacher.

This group is fortunate in being under the fine directorship of Mrs. Beals, who was assisted by several competent student teachers.

Their spirits were 'tops' in every activity they undertook this year. They sang for various local clubs, assembly programs, Thanksgiving program, and P. T. A. programs. At Christmas time, they sent the students off for vacation with a song in their hearts by caroling in the halls. On June 7, they journeyed to Kalamazoo to sing with twelve hundred other students in the Southwestern Michigan Music Festival. A Spring Concert ended this year for the organization.
